The threads of all couplings should be thoroughly cleaned of all dirt or sand and a slight coat of lubricating oil put on them but no oil should be allowed to touch the hose, as it will cause it to become brittle. Cold and frost effects rubber and makes it brittle. That is one of the reasons why more hose bursts in the winter months than at any other time. Hose should not be allowed to remain kinked when charged with water. All hose, pipes, nozzles, siamese or other connections should be examined and tried regularly to see if their threads are in good order and their swivels work easily. Nozzles, pipes, couplings, etc., should not be allowed to fall, as a slight dent in them is liable to render them unfit for use, or in the case of pipes to throw a spray stream instead of a direct one. TOOLS USED BY NEW YORK FIREMEN All the tools used by the fire force of New York City are assembled at the drill yard, at Fire Headquarters, for the instruction of firemen. In a recent examination for promotion, candidates were asked to name the various tools used in the department. Few members of the uniformed force knew all of these implements. Ready for the work of instruction at headquarters are gathered two high pressure hydrants--one apart--one fire alarm box and the following official list which firemen should preserve for....
